Zehnder Chime

The athlete of the radiator world – striking, self-assured design consisting of elegantly curved round tubes whose open side allows even very thick towels to be slid on as a convenient way of drying or warming them. Chime from the Zehnder Studio Collection: the round design version made of hand-polished, high-quality stainless steel; can be installed with the open end on the left or right. Zehnder Chime makes a bold statement in your bathroom – and has the added bonus of giving you beautifully pre-warmed towels.

Advantages

- The very best in practical comfort
- Option to be fitted with the open end on the left or right, ensuring flexibility
- The hard-wearing stainless steel surface and the radiator's ergonomic shape make cleaning quick and easy
- Hand-polished stainless steel
- Available for operation on central heating system
